Subject: RE: Granules

We need to discuss thisthe time lapse , besides the cost is costing us huge $$$$ and causing obviously a huge lapse in time from the time we pick up peanuts until the time we can invoice...

We need to find out somehow what our competition (JIMBOS) is doing and at the very least mimic their policy...

We need to protect our self and the problem is that the tests absolutely give us no protection, just an indication at best.....

Let's talk..

Subject: Granules

We received Final Lab results from Delbel this morning and we have a Positive for Salmonella. Lot 8268 of Granules produced last Thursday. We produced 441 cases of this lot and we produced meal out of the same lot. Samples are going out today for retesting and we will have results on Thursday. Some of this product, has been shipped. 280 cases of Medium Chop to Fieldbrook and 40 cases of Meal to Kerry Ingredients. These customers need to be called and the product placed on HOLD until this can be cleared. All remaining product is on HOLD in the plant. We have not had any High micro numbers of any kind in Granules and we completely disassembled the line this weekend for cleaning.
