Hi Sammy,

Are you going to stay with the two different audits like in the past?? If so, then your audits will take at least 1.5 days, maybe two, since we have a new audit format to work from.

As far as someone for QA Manager, I am sure you know more qualified people than I do.

I am scheduling you for audit dates on March 23 and 24, Monday and Tuesday. Let me know if these are acceptable.

Pete

Hello Pete,

Yes, We did get the new standards. I am in the process of hiring a new QA Manager and would like to a little time to bring him or her up to speed. Would you have any idea of anyone that may be interested in the job. Let's schedule February 23rd and 24th or maybe sometime in March. Thanks and I look forward with working with you again.
Sammy

Hello again Sammy Lightsey,

You lucky guy, I am your AIB auditor. So we need to get your plant set up for any audit. Please be informed first off that we are using a new standard. I am assuming that you have received an updated copy of the AIB Food Safety Standards. I am also assuming that you have or will review and will note the changes you need to make in order not to have points deducted when we do the audit. If not, let me know.

Secondly, we need to schedule your audit. It looks like your plant will require 1.5 days to complete the two audits using the new formats. Rather than the one day we used in the past.

Looking at this from a 1.5 day audit setup, I have these dates available, you let me know which one will work best for you. I have January 6, 7 and 8 open. I have February 10, 11, 12 and 13 open. I have February 23 and 24 open.

Please try to pick from these dates. Hopefully you will pick the earliest date possible.

If you wish to talk, call me at home, cell phone [REDACTED] or home [REDACTED]

Thanks and Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to you and your family,

Pete Hatfield
