SEC. 206. GENERATION ASSISTANCE.

For the purposes of preventing blackouts during calendar year 2001 only, the Federal Emergency Management Agency shall take all feasible steps to identify, finance or assist in financing, and place in service temporary generating equipment of 10 megawatts each or less to assist in electric emergencies. Such steps may include making grants or direct payments to public or private organizations to insure the temporary use of such equipment at power transmission substations, or otherwise to accomplish the purposes of this section.
