Rey Ramsey
President and Chief Executive Officer
TechNet

Rey Ramsey is President and Chief Executive Officer of TechNet. TechNet is the preeminent bipartisan political network of Chief Executive Officers and Senior Executives of leading U.S. technology companies. Our members are the nation's drivers of innovation in the fields of information technology, e-commerce, clean technology, biotechnology, venture capital and investment banking representing two million employees and $800 billion in revenues.

Mr. Ramsey was previously Chief Executive Officer of One Economy Corporation, a nonprofit organization that leverages the power of technology and information to connect low-income people to the economic mainstream by bringing broadband into their homes, producing public-purpose media, and training and employing youth to enhance communities' technological capacity. Currently serving as Chairman of One Economy, Mr. Ramsey led the organization's growth from four employees working in basement to a global organization that has taken root on four continents. Since 2000, One Economy has helped bring broadband access into the homes of over 300,000 low-income Americans. More than 17 million people have visited One Economy's multilingual web properties.

Mr. Ramsey has been on the forefront of driving the creation and distribution of public purpose media, most notably through the Public Internet Channel (www.pic.tv), which he founded. Together with acclaimed director Robert Townsend, Mr. Ramsey has co-produced the miniseries "Diary of a Single Mom" and "Los Americans" for PIC.tv, as well as the soon to be released, full length feature, "The Hive". Through One Economy programs, hundreds of youth have delivered nearly 50,000 hours of service to their communities.

Mr. Ramsey has spent years creating innovative partnerships between nonprofits, government and the private sector. Mr. Ramsey is the author, with Ben Hecht, of the book ManagingNonprofits.org: Dynamic Management for the Digital Age (John Wiley & Sons).

Prior to the founding of One Economy, Mr. Ramsey served as president and chief operating officer of the Enterprise Foundation, now known as Enterprise Community Partners, which has invested billions into urban centers to build and preserve affordable housing. At age 29, before joining Enterprise, he was named the Director of Housing and Community Services under Governor Goldschmidt, becoming the youngest member of the Governor's Cabinet and was later re-appointed by Governor Roberts. Mr. Ramsey moved to Oregon to practice law and was an associate at Oregon's largest law firm, Stoel, Rives, Boley.

Mr. Ramsey serves on many boards, including the Schnitzer Investment Corporation, the Local Initiatives Support Corporation (LISC), and the Washington Jesuit Academy, where he is vice-chairman. In addition Mr. Ramsey serves on the Advisory Board of the Silicon Valley Education Foundation. He was also chairman of the NAACP's Futures Commission and served on the Knight Commission on the Information Needs of Communities in a Democracy. He was also the chairman of Habitat for Humanity International from 2003-2005.

Mr. Ramsey holds a bachelors degree in political science from Rutgers University and is a graduate of the University of Virginia Law School. More information can be found at www.technet.org.
