Subtitle E—Next Generation 9–1–1

SEC. 15001. FURTHER DEPLOYMENT OF NEXT GENERATION 9–1–1

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) The 9–1–1 systems of the United States, while a model for the entire world, lack the advanced functionality, interoperability, reliability, and capabilities that come with the adoption of new digital communications technologies.

(2) Communications technologies currently available to the public, including first responders and other public safety personnel, have substantially outpaced the legacy communications technologies still used by most emergency communications centers in the 9–1–1 systems of the United States.

(3) This lack of modern technology, when coupled with other challenges, is impacting the ability of the 9–1–1 systems of the United States to efficiently and effectively provide responses to emergencies.

(4) Modernizing the 9–1–1 systems of the United States to incorporate the new and evolving capabilities of broadband voice and data communications is essential for the safety and security of the public, including first responders and other public safety personnel.

(5) Efforts to modernize the 9–1–1 systems of the United States to date, while laudable and important, have been limited due to a lack of funding and inconsistent or unclear policies related to the governance, deployment, and operations of Next Generation 9–1–1.

(6) A nationwide strategy for Next Generation
9–1–1 has become essential to help guide the transition and create a common framework for implementtion of Next Generation 9–1–1 while preserving State, regional, and local control over the governance and technology choices of the 9–1–1 systems of the United States.

(7) Accelerated implementation of Next Generation 9–1–1 will—

(A) increase compatibility with emerging communications trends;
(B) enhance the flexibility, reliability, and survivability of the 9–1–1 systems of the United States during major incidents;

(C) improve emergency response for the public, including first responders and other public safety personnel;

(D) promote the interoperability of the 9–1–1 systems of the United States with emergency response providers including users of the Nationwide Public Safety Broadband Network being deployed by the First Responder Network Authority; and

(E) increase the cost effectiveness of operating the 9–1–1 systems of the United States.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the 9–1–1 professionals in the United States perform important and lifesaving work every day, and need the tools and communications technologies to perform the work effectively in a world with digital communications technologies;

(2) the transition from the legacy communications technologies used in the 9–1–1 systems of the United States to Next Generation 9–1–1 is a national priority and a national imperative;
(3) the United States should complete the transition described in paragraph (2) as soon as practicable;

(4) the United States should develop a nationwide framework that facilitates cooperation among Federal, State, and local officials on deployment of Next Generation 9–1–1 in order to meet that goal;

(5) the term “Public Safety Answering Point” becomes outdated in a broadband environment and 9–1–1 centers are increasingly and appropriately being referred to as emergency communications centers; and

(6) 9–1–1 authorities and emergency communications centers should have sufficient resources to implement Next Generation 9–1–1, including resources to support associated geographic information systems (commonly known as “GIS”), and cybersecurity measures.

(c) STATEMENT OF POLICY.—It is the policy of the United States that—

(1) Next Generation 9–1–1 should be technologically and competitively neutral;

(2) Next Generation 9–1–1 should be interoperable and reliable;
(3) the governance and control of the 9–1–1 systems of the United States, including Next Generation 9–1–1, should remain at the State, regional, and local level; and

(4) individuals in the United States should receive information on how to best utilize Next Generation 9–1–1 and on its capabilities and usefulness.

(d) COORDINATION OF NEXT GENERATION 9–1–1 IMPLEMENTATION.—Part C of title I of the National Telecommunications and Information Administration Organization Act (47 U.S.C. 901 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following:
